

Brad Taylor

An Australian story that allows you to believe in your dreams.

Since birth, Brad Taylor faced an enormous challenge. He threw down the gauntlet to slay the incurable lung disease, Cystic Fibrosis. (cf)

His seventh birthday wish was, "to be around one day when there would be a cure or treatment to free me from cf." All he really wanted, was to do the things other boys his age took for granted. So began his dream and with it, the determination to make it a reality - no matter the size of the obstacles that lay ahead.

Using self-belief from a young age, he successfully overcame those obstacles. Brad now helps others by telling his inspirational story. Allow Brad to pass on the knowledge of how to win and produce greater results.

Pamela Lockyer-Scrutton from the ASTHMA FOUNDATION OF SA wrote:

Brad is an amazing man, his lively presentation at the Asthma Foundation of SA's 2006 Annual General Meeting was insightful and inspiring for our membership and supporters on the night. Brad highlighted that despite the challenge he has with his health, he has still been able to reach a number of high level goals which have only be possible as a result of his commitment, determination and persistence to achieve despite his ill health. He is a wonderful role model for the community, and once you hear him speak, you too will be enthused to achieve, as well as give back to others so they too can achieve.
